

Batlangay

(Piggy Race)

Aim of the game: To be able to reach a designated goal and then return to the starting point

Set up: Ground preparation : two parallel lines are drawn about 10 meters apart of each other. One is the starting line and the other is the finishing line.

Rules:

- Assignment of roles : The players from two teams. Select a leader in each of them.
- Formation : Each team forms a line behind the starting line. Each leader stands on the finish line opposite his team.
- At a given signal, the first player of each team crawls on his knees, carrying a rider on his back to the finish line. The leader of his team helps the rider dismount.
- The carrier stands and the rider run back to the starting line to touch the next carrier of his team. *Note : the game continues until the last carrier and his rider runs
- The next pair to run cannot leave the starting line unless the previous rider has touched the carrier's hand
- The team that crosses the finish line first wins
- A big husky leader at the finish line is an asset for a team since a strong, fast boy can easily help a rider dismount in no time at all. Any second lost in this process delays the rider from returning to the starting line and touching the hand of the next carrier.
